International Workers' Day

Événement national Free

On May 1, Armenia celebrates Labor Day, or International Workers' Day.

The origins of the holiday go back to the Eight Hour Day Movement, which was organized by American workers in the 1860s. It later spread throughout the world. Today this holiday is celebrated in 66 countries.
In Armenia, Labor Day was canceled after the country declared its independence from the USSR in 1991, but in 2005 the holiday was restored following numerous requests from Armenian residents. On this day, thematic parades, concerts and other cultural events are held in Armenia.
