First Republic Day

National event Free

This holiday was established in the early 1990s, in honor of the declaration of independence of the Republic of Armenia in 1918. The new state lasted only two years, but played a decisive role in shaping the feeling of statehood and national unity among the Armenian people.

On this day, in honor of the First Republic, the streets are decorated with national flags. Cultural events, military parades, public performances and fireworks take place throughout the country. The President of Armenia lays flowers at the Sardarapat memorial complex, erected in honor of the victorious battle in which the new republic had to fight against the Turks who tried to annex Armenian territories in 1918.
